Before we continue, it is important to know that Gunnison County Libraries will not be asking voters to approve a ballot measure to fund any services or library building projects this November. However, sharing your opinion and providing honest answers will influence those decisions in the future. So, let’s continue the survey now.

As you may know, the Crested Butte Library has fewer library services, events, and activities than the Gunnison Library because the Crested Butte Library is in a much smaller building. Therefore, to achieve an equal balance of library services in the county, Gunnison County Libraries is reviewing options for a larger library in the North Valley area at some future time.

Knowing this, would you vote yes and approve or vote no and reject a modest tax increase to fund a new library building in the North Valley?
